

By Burr McIntosh

The Cheerful Philosopher

Are you fortunate enough to be? If not are you trying to be, metaphorically, "In the Foothills." For the past couple of years, or more, most of us have been on the plains, or on the desert below, looking up to, hoping to reach, if not the mountain tops, at least the Foothills. I have reached them, both physically and mentally. And I am content. Satisfied, no, not with the mountains to look up to, representing, to the imagination, the fulfillment of the Hopes and Dreams that have caused so much of trying at times. So, I am grateful to be Content.

I invite you all, Y-O-U, to join me now. In the struggle with the problems that we all have, or for something almost unattainable, something that just now you can do without, something up there, either on the side of or at the top of the mountain, just smile at it, lower your eyes, look about you, with a deep prayer of gratitude, that you have, at least reached the Foothills. There have been other things besides plains and deserts. There have been thick woods and swamps. For a long time, years, I've been through all of these—barren deserts, barren plains, heavy forests and all kinds of destructive men and women have been behind the trees, often with hidden instruments, ready to smite my helpless head. And the swamps. How many times have I found myself enmeshed, with some unseen octopus tugging away to pull me down.

But I have ever had the power to give a clarion cry. And every one of you has. Time and again the ravages of thirst, the gnawing hunger, the bruised head, the strangle hold of the would-be destroyer in the Swamp of Iniquity have, momentarily, seemed to ALMOST cause me to let go. But the rescue was always there. It is there for everyone of you, no matter where you are. Shut your teeth and "KEEP-A-GOIN'." So today I thank my God that I am in the Foothills, physically, in beautiful, historic Sierra Madre. And I am Content.

Some tomorrow, maybe, I shall "pick up my bed and walk," climbing up the canyon, along the rugged path, struggling to reach something more. Maybe. But today I am glad that I may find peace and Content just "In the Foothills."

TO MISTAH LONGFACE

Et you feelin' up de stress. Doan' you show it in yo' dress. Let yo' trousers giv a fringe. Let yo' whiskers need a singe. Let yo' speerits drap an' wilt. Let you say: "De milk's all split." You buck up an' sing an' shout. Tell de nabahs all eboutout. Tell dem: "Eb'ryting gies right. World am movin' out o' sight." Den you fin' dey come to you Sayin': "Mistah, howdy do?" "Would ye like to hab some cash?" "Will ye eat ma chicken hash?" "Will ye come an' res' yo' feet?" "Will ye eat ma possum meat?" Dats de way de all will do. Ef ye chuck a bluff or two. No one keers how much you got. Long's you seems to hab a lot. Long's you nevah show yo' han'. Folks will shout dat you is Gran'.

MY NEIGHBORS

It's a strange, "comfortin'" sort of feeling to be amongst "neighbors." Just a half a century ago I left a very happy home in Pittsburgh to go to Easton, Pennsylvania, to become a freshman in Lafayette College. My sainted mother was living and the chief instigator in my pursuit of a college career. So were my father, angel sister—but a living one—and brother. When I went away then, it was only to return for brief periods so I knew comparatively little of neighbors. My mother died during my Christmas vacation in my junior year at Princeton. Shortly after, began a career of hectic wandering. Many times more or less happy "homes" have been in New York apartments or hotels. Friends, yes. Homes, no. Even those who dwell in houses or mansions in New York have but slight knowledge of who their neighbors may be. Hollywood has other thoughts than, as my dear old friend James "Popcorn" Riley would have said, "bein' neighbor."

Recently the time came when I wanted to "Get away from it all." Thinking and looking, a letter from a good friend brought back first impressions of Sierra Madre and memories of a visit to a picturesque ranch, twenty years ago the home of a young man with whom I had spent a number of pleasant hours in New York when the world was young—my "neighbor," "Charley" Hastings.

So we came out to quietly look

Principals Picked For Three Plays

Community Players Postpone Performances Until Tuesday, June 23

The Community Players program at Sierra Madre school auditorium, originally set for June 20, has been postponed until Tuesday night, June 23.

Original plans were changed because James N. Hawks, to take the principal role in "For Art's Sake," has been engaged to play the part of "Sam Green" in Martin Flavin's play, "Broken Dishes," Pasadena Community Playhouse offering beginning on the 25th, and the Sierra Madre program was hastily switched to the mid-week date.

Parts and players for the three productions have just been announced. "For Art's Sake," a farce written by David Buchan, with a Sierra Madre background for some of its most rollicking scenes, has a cast composed of "Jim," played by James N. Hawks; "Ethel," Mrs. James N. Hawks; "George," David Buchan and "Grace," Mrs. W. R. Morgan. The play is laid in the living room of "Jim's" home.

"Job's Kinfolk," North Carolina folk play, built around the struggle for existence of "poor whites" in a Southern mill town, is said to be one of the most interesting short productions ever attempted by the players.

Its cast is composed of "Kizzie," the grandmother, played by Mrs. J. C. Dickson; "Kate," the daughter, role taken by Mrs. W. R. Morgan; "Katharine," the granddaughter, Mary Young; "Estelle," a neighbor, Mrs. D. Vanderpool; and "Carl," a mill hand, part enacted by Richard Young. The play, a tragedy, is rich in character portrayal.

A nursing home on King's Road, London, affords the background for the third production on the program, "The Rest Cure," comedy by Gertrude Jennings. The part of "Muriel," the slavey, will be taken by Mrs. R. M. Finlayson, while "May," the fair cat, is to be played by Mrs. V. Hill. Mrs. Janet S. Wood will enact the role of "Alice," the dark cat, while "Clarence," tired author, will be acted by R. M. Finlayson. Catherine Sinnott will play "Olive," the author's wife.

Revive Plan For Beautification Of Central Avenue

Now is the time to buy and install stately coccas plumosas palms in downtown Sierra Madre, the City Planning Commission decided at its regular monthly meeting in the City Hall Tuesday night.

With the ornamental tropical trees now on sale at less than half the price asked last winter, the commission has revived the project for beautification of the shopping section of Central avenue. City Engineer Lynde will soon be asked to draw up a plan for location of the palms, after which total costs will be figured out.

NEW SIERRA MADRE SIGNS ON FOOTHILL BOULEVARD ORDERED

New signs for old is the order of the day in Sierra Madre. All obstacles in the way of erection of two Neon directional signs on Foothill boulevard to replace antiquated and outworn electric signs at Sierra Madre and Baldwin avenues, have been surmounted. The street committee Wednesday night was authorized to sign contracts or purchase for the signs.

Another sign of the times is an offer from the Automobile Club of Southern California to meet new speed-warning signs in the city before August 14, when recently adopted speed laws add five miles an hour to residential and business district limits.

"JIM" HEASLEY WINS APPOINTMENT AS A "REGULAR" POLICEMAN

James C. Heasley, popular member of the volunteer fire force and special officer here for several months, will become a member of the regular police force on July 1. The appointment was made by Chief McMillan and confirmed by City Council last Wednesday night. The Council at the same time confirmed appointment of E. C. Scott to serve as special police officer during the summer months.

CITY GETS RIGHT TO SINK TEST SHAFTS

Official sanction has been granted the Los Angeles County Flood Control bureau water penetration experiment in Santa Anita Wash. The City Council on Wednesday night granted the board permission to sink two shafts on city-owned property in the section of the clubhouse. One shaft will cover a long percola parallel to the west boundary, giving balance to another now

Pupils Of Local School Will Sing The Japanese National Anthem In Japanese At Reception Today

The spirit of international goodwill will be reflected in the reception to Sierra Madre Japanese, to be held in Sierra Madre school auditorium this afternoon, Friday, June 12.

Pupils at the school will show their gratitude to the Japanese colony here by singing the Japanese national anthem, presenting two Japanese dances and a play with setting laid in Japan.

Details of the program, to begin at 2:30 o'clock, have just been released by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, school principal.

Formal presentation of the two goldfish pools designed and constructed by skilled Japanese artists will be the feature of the afternoon. The school trustees will receive the gift, which had its origin in a desire of the Japanese residents to express their appreciation for excellent educational facilities afforded their children in the new $210,000 structure.

The whole school will take part in the program, to open with singing of "California" and "America the Beautiful." Children will give "The Cradle Song," musical compositions with flutes and piano.

Tea will be served in the school patio after the auditorium ceremony, to which the public is invited.

Fennel Home Has Become A Club House

Firemen and Auxiliary Make Social Center of Scene Of The Wistaria Fete

When Sierra Madre volunteer firemen decided to sponsor the Wistaria Fete for the next five years, they little thought that they were acquiring a new clubhouse and social center at the same time.

But when events swung around to where a lease of the Fennel home seemed the most logical way to promote the seasonal festival, the clubhouse idea was born—and meetings at the Scenic Point residence during the past few weeks have resulted in a definite program for development of the site as a social center.

Plans now include keeping the Wistaria Fete site open to visitors all year around, with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Scott, now installed at the residence, on hand to supply information and distribute folders to the many tourists anxious to inspect the vine even when it is not in bloom. Decision as to whether or not the place will be kept open all year is to be made tonight at a special meeting of the fire department on the spot.

Volunteers and auxiliary have begun a regular practice of holding all their meetings at the Fennel home. Members joined last week-end in painting benches and tables under the green arbor, and in repairing the fish-pool and fountain on the place.

Women Have New Aims For Their Club

Improving Central Avenue Home To Make It More Than Ever Social Center

To a greater degree than ever before, the Woman's Clubhouse is to become a social center for Sierra Madre, and an unrivalled community beauty spot.

The beautification program is now underway. Working according to tentative plans drawn up by Charles G. Adams, landscape architect, six graceful coccas plumosas palms, of the type chosen by the City Planning Commission for beautification of the downtown section, were planted in front of the clubhouse this week, other trees being taken out.

And in the last few days club workers have erected an artistic timbered pergola near the east entrance to the building as a trellis for a large wistaria vine already growing at the corner of the clubhouse.

But those are only the forerunners of the many landscaping and architectural changes embodied in plans to develop the grounds for beauty and revenue.

When the Woman's Club ended its third year of promoting the Wistaria Fete this spring, sufficient funds were realized to lift the mortgage on the clubhouse, and pay for limited development of the grounds. But no more money could be realized from the festival for at least another five year period in which volunteer firemen will manage the celebration. And development of Sierra Madre school auditorium deprived the women of funds generally received from clubhouse rental.

So an original money-making plan was proposed. Why not turn the vacant property to the west and rear of the building into an idyllic garden spot with tea tables arranged under flowering arbors? An outdoor grill and garden house could be constructed as time went on—and visitors would come from far and near to enjoy the same hospitality which marked periods when the clubwomen acted as Wistaria Fete hostesses.

The proposal was enthusiastically received. Already the women plan to form a wistaria background for the clubhouse. One vine will cover a long percola parallel to the west boundary, giving balance to another now

Pick Staff For Health School Here

Health Department Plans Instruction Of The County's Teaching Staff

Four days after graduation exercises at Sierra Madre public school next Thursday night, June 18, the summer health school for teachers, nurses and doctors, sponsored by Los Angeles County Health Department will take over the beautiful new building for an eight-week demonstrational course that it is expected will bring hundreds of instructors here.

Graduation exercises for 28 pupils of the 6A grade are to be of informal nature. The first class to graduate from the new building will present the play, "Robin Hood," in the school auditorium at 8:30 o'clock before their fellow students, parents and trustees.

Immediately after close of the school year, the expert health staff assigned to the hygiene classes will put the structure in shape for the opening day of the health demonstration, Monday, June 22.

Miss Rama Bennett, diet expert of the Los Angeles Public Health Association, preventive organization supported by Christmas seal funds, visited the building Wednesday to inspect the cafeteria and plan a scientific nutritional course for the youngsters.

Dr. Anna M. Rude, chief of the child hygiene division of Los Angeles County Health Department, and a delegate to the recent Washington child health conference, is to personally assist in the health program. She will be aided by Dr. Adele Brown, child health specialist in charge of the county clinic operated at the Park House here for the past three months. Mrs. Ellen Coll Barker is to direct the enterprise.

Thirty Sierra Madre children have already been selected for the physical training course, which consists of sunlight, play and rest under supervision of four separate staffs. Each two weeks a new group of nurses and health experts will come to Sierra Madre school to help in the demonstration here, which supplants 16 former health schools operated by the county.

The special health room, with sun deck, on the second floor of the building will serve for sun bathing; the 4B classroom has been selected for rest periods and the kindergarten will be used for occupational therapy.

ADDED FEATURE FOR CHESS TOURNAMENT

Sierra Madre Chess Club will hold a special executive meeting in the Park House tomorrow afternoon to elect officers for the coming year, and decide on final arrangements for the second annual Morphy Day Chess Carnival in Masonic Temple here next Saturday, June 20. Simultaneous play is planned for early afternoon, and the election will be held at 3:15 o'clock.

A problem solving contest, with an authoritative book on chess as prize, is the newest feature of the coming carnival, which will be attended by State Champion Borochow—his first trip in 10 years to a Southern California tournament.

IRATE CITIZEN MAKES THE CITY PAY A BILL

Echoes of the nuisance ordinance were heard at Wednesday night's City Council meeting when Joseph Calhoun, of 206 Auburn avenue, threatened to attach the city bank account unless paid a $22.50 judgement received in a Pasadena small claims court, for damage to his property incurred when a city water main broke over a year ago. Calhoun several months ago declared in council meeting that he would press the charge if the city passed the nuisance abatement law. The nuisance law passed—and Wednesday night City Clerk Elmer A. Green was instructed to check the judgment and pay bill.

Azusa's Ball Team Takes Lacing Here

Local Team Shows Its Impartiality, Bats And Romps Around Bases At Will

To prove beyond all question that it plays no favorites with its competitors in the American Legion League, the local team gave the visiting aggregation from Azusa a 25 to 4 trouncing at the school athletic field here as a reminder of its first visit on Friday night.

Azusa's batters couldn't hit the smoky offerings of Waverly Pratt and none of the three pitchers the visitors used seemed to have anything that didn't look as big as a balloon to the local batsmen, who romped the bases almost at will to the delight of the crowd that again overflowed the stands, and onto the field.

The holocaust began when Min-or Harkness stepped to bat in the first inning and sent one far over the outfield. The far outfield was not far enough for Frank Burroughs, newest addition to the Sierra Madre team. He followed Harkness to bat and slugged one clear into Hermosa street—the first ball to "go over the fence" at the local diamond.

Pratt struck out 13 men, while Carpenter for Azusa fanned one. The score follows:

The local team, with a standing of 1000 in the 18th District League, will meet Alhambra in that city tonight, Friday, June 12. A stiff battle is expected, and many enthusiasts from Sierra Madre plan to make the trip.

13 Graduate At St. Rita's On Tuesday

Elaborate Ceremonies Planned For The Eighth Annual Commencement

Elaborate graduation ceremonies are planned for the eighth annual commencement exercises at St. Rita's school on the evening of Tuesday, June 16, when 13 graduates will receive diplomas from Rev. Father Hyacinth Clarey.

"Retrospect" is the title of the valedictory address to be given by John Colbert, who will review efforts of the eighth grade class.

The whole school will join in the exercises honoring the graduates: Roger Joseph Armstrong, John Raymond Bridgland, John Edward Colbert, Richard Anthony Hoevel, Henry John Kohl, Francis Peter Meyers, Mariette Eunice Albrecht, Cecilia Elizabeth Gerhard, Marjorie Pauline Grippi, Norah Millicent Hemming, Helen Gladys Jackson, Edith Marie Morago, and Mercedes Catherine Schiltz.

Directed by Sisters of St. Joseph, who conduct the parochial school, children of ever grade will entertain with recitations, musical selections and a five-scene playlet.

Palmer writing certificates and rewards for perfect attendance will be granted deserving pupils.

MISS JESSIE LAIDLAW DEAD AT LONG BEACH

Miss Jessie Laidlaw of 169 North Lima street, daughter of James Laidlaw of this city, passed away on Thursday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Redpath, in Long Beach. Miss Laidlaw was born 31 years ago in Scotland and had lived in Sierra Madre for the past 10 years. She was a member of the local Order of the Eastern Star and of Bethany Church.

Funeral services, with Rev. William Duncan Ogg officiating, will be held from the Ray A. Grant Funeral Parlors at 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

Sierra Madre Has Good Representation In Junior Hi And College Classes

Taking part in the largest and most colorful graduation exercises ever given in Rose Bowl, 22 Sierra Madre boys and girls graduating from Pasadena Junior College and Muir Tech will receive diplomas Friday evening, June 19.

Based on an American Indian theme, the pageant in the huge amphitheatre will be more spectacular than ever before. More than 1,050 graduates will receive certificates, and approximately 1500 children are to take part in the pageant.

A program of Indian tribal rites will center around an Indian song, "Chant of the Four Hills." A hundred piece orchestra will play for a chorus of 200 trained voices.

Upper division pupils from Sierra Madre graduating at the commencement exercises are: Dan McNamara, Joseph Weiss and Mary Young. Lower Division pupils include: Ruth Klunk, Ruth Wheeling, Catherine McClelland, Catherine McBurney, LeRoy McBurney, Jack Young, Grover Thompson, Carlton Schwartz, Craig McLaughlin, Bertha Lee Fitzgerald, Daphne Alley, Harold Keltz, Dorothy Moote, Sellwyn Myers, Irene Middough, Robert Stamer and Leo Ashkenas. Joseph Griffin and Edith Hawkins are graduating from Muir Technical High School.

Woodrow Wilson Junior High ceremonies will be held on Thursday night, June 18, when Superintendent John A. Sesson will preside at the commencement.

Twenty-one Sierra Madre students will receive diplomas at the exercises. They are: Esther Draman, Ruth Grant, Ruth Lord, Kathryn Martin, Kathleen Moote, Elizabeth Morgdrich, Martha Newton, Evelyn Olsen, Eleanor Phillips, Bernice Roe, Sadie Sellers, Mary Solnit, Sophie Stamer, Virginia Wood, Mary Worthington, Elizabeth Mahuron, Jack Henning, Frank Hora, Robert Mitchell, John Senour and Joe Shapiro.

Three Sierra Madre students at Woodrow Wilson Junior high school were elected to hold offices on the student body of the school this week. Gwendolyn Gaze, who has seen service as vice-president during the past semester, was elected president. Mingo Agasuki was selected to serve as Commissioner of Thrift and Finance, and Sam Schwartz, capable and popular athlete, is to be Commissioner of Boys' Athletics.

The school is to be the scene of the Senior Banquet tonight, an affair to be attended by all graduates.

FEAR SUBDIVISION PLANS WOULD PERMIT A BUNGALOW COURT

C. R. Sumner appeared before the Planning Commission Tuesday and City Council on Wednesday to ask approval of subdivision plans for the Caldwell property, 24 lots at the end of Montecito avenue between Central and Highland.

Action was deferred a month because of a peculiarity of the plan, which divides the land in such a way that a long lot down the center of the property dominates the tract. The commission will investigate possible use of the large piece for a bungalow court.

A letter from Chief Engineer Eaton of the Flood Control bureau asks that maps of all subdivisions planned near Flood Control improvement areas be first submitted to the Los Angeles office for approval.

BACKFIRE FROM WEED CLEANING CAMPAIGNS

Lot cleaning charges of $49.65, levied last year against property owned by Mrs. Alice Blecha on Churchill Road, Canyon Park, were ordered refunded by the City Council last Wednesday night. Mrs. Blecha recently protested the charge.

A. C. Scanlan, owner of Woodland drive property, charged lack of care and discrimination in work done on his lots. Flowers and shrubs, he asserted, were cut along with the weeds.

Hotel Here Is Bought By An Investor

Los Angeles Business Man Takes Over Hostelry Store Rooms, Offices

The most important local real estate transfer of the year has just been made public with announcement that the Sierra Madre Hotel building and adjoining offices and stores changed hands in Chicago this week.

The transfer, for an unnamed consideration, changes ownership of the large property from J. Kreamer of Chicago to D. Levinson, Los Angeles business man.

Some of Sierra Madre's most active business firms are housed in the building, which originally cost over $60,000.

It includes the 29-room Sierra Madre Hotel, operated by Luckey D. Ball, the Community Service Building, offices of W. R. Humphries real estate firm and Sierra Madre Electric Company, Mid-dough's Sierra Madre Drug Company, Gibbs Market and offices of Dr. C. T. L. Herbert, osteopath, and Dr. J. L. Woehler, dentist.

Extensive redecorating and repainting will soon begin, according to word received by W. R. Humphries, who will act as agent for the new owner.

In line with the awakening real estate activity, Sierra Madre landlords have come to realize that the rental market here is largely determined by the state of repair of their offerings, according to local real estate agents, who point to the many permits issued at the city hall in the last six weeks for major repairs, redecoration and other spring renovation of rental properties.

"Paint is cheap," one agent said yesterday. "Labor and material are reasonable. Liberal use of these would solve Sierra Madre's rental problems overnight—and bring a better return for the owners."

Leader In Nation's Boy Scout Affairs Praises Movement

"That's gold in them thar boys," said Mr. E. B. DeGroot in discussing the American youth at the Tuesday luncheon of the local Kiwanis club, "and the principles that the Boy Scouts of America stand for are helping daily to develop in the communities of the Nation boys that will be men of high character."

Mr. DeGroot, one of the most outstanding speakers to address the local Kiwanis club, is a Sierra Madren and is the father of three boys, all trained in scouting. One son is now a member of Troop No. 1 of Sierra Madre and the other two have already become nationally known on the athletic field. Mr. DeGroot states that scout training has materially helped them in their success.

Starting boys' work with Jane Adams at Hull House, Chicago, Mr. DeGroot has worked with boys up to the present time and is now Scout executive of the Los Angeles District Council and a member of the National Advisory Committee of Boy Scouts and Motion Pictures.

Other Boy Scout officials present included Tallman H. Trask, Scout executive, and Victor Teaney, field executive, Pasadena and San Gabriel Valley Council.

Two scouts present at the luncheon, John Senour, 81 East Grand View avenue, Troop 1, and Joe Hinojos, 249 Grove street, Troop 2, stood and gave the scout oath.

Chairman of the day, Vincent Fleming, introduced the Scoutmasters of each troop, W. O. Preston, Troop 1 and Everett Hinojos, Troop 2.

Visitors included C. P. Davison, George Shirk, H. F. Webster and F. G. Martin, editorial writer for a Pasadena newspaper, and Fred Redner of Monrovia.

—Jack Hosford.

MORE PERMITS FOR BUILDING ISSUED

Judging by permits issued at the City Hall during the past ten days, June is to be a normal building month.

H. Escherich was granted a permit yesterday to remodel his residence at 749 Woodland drive and add a garage. Work began today.

Eight permits totalling $8306 were issued during May as compared with five permits amounting to $5315 during the same month last year.

This year to date 55 permits have been issued for a total value of $38,773. To the end of May, 1930, 25 permits were issued amounting to $25,105.

IT'LL BE FOGGY, BUT WON'T RAIN—HERSEY

Week-end vacationists are assured pleasant weather for their jaunts in the prediction for the next few days issued last night by Col. Hersey of the U.S. Government weather station here. Fair weather, with high fogs in the mornings but no rain, is promised for the end of the week.

SNOOK SEES SIGNS OF LOTS BETTER TIMES

Signs of returning prosperity are seen in a report just issued by Frank G. Snook, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, showing an increase of more than 40, 000 in motor vehicles registered in California during the first four months of this year as compared with the same period for 1930. The report gives a total of 1,945,737 vehicles registered during the four-month period of this year. This is considerably better than the normal gain, a fact leading to the motor vehicle chief's conclusion that business is improving rapidly.

Apparently, motor car buying in California and other coast States touched bottom in February. In March, figures for which now are available, they came up again. And how they did recoil!
As against sales of 12,320 cars in California, Oregon and Washington, in the year's shortest month,
March retelling of cars climbed to 19,737 units. That is a gain of 60 per cent.

Growth Of Science Is Reviewed

Annual Meeting Discloses That There Are Now 2519 Branch Churches

Growth of the Christian Science movement throughout the world, as indicated by formation during the past year of 79 new branch church organizations, was reported Tuesday at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston. Six thousand members from many nations gathered for the event.

The Mother Church now has 2519 branch churches and societies, in addition to 40 college and university organizations. Forty-five more churches were established in North America and 26 additional in Europe during the year.

Robert E. Buffum, LL.B., of Belmont, Mass., was elected President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year. Edward L. Ripley of Brookline, Mass., continues as treasurer and Ezra W. Palmer, also of Brookline, as clerk. George Shaw Cook of Chicago and Mrs. Elizabeth F. Norwood of Brookline started today the last year of their three-year term as First and Second Readers, respectively. Mr. Buffum is a native of Keene, New Hampshire.

In his address, the new President sketched the work Christian Scientists may do to alleviate world unrest.

"Today all mankind needs the help which Christian Science can give for its ills and troubles," he declared. "The various theories entertained by the world with respect to health, happiness, employment, property and prosperity are experiencing radical changes, and with these shifting beliefs have arisen many doubts, fears and anxieties."

"The questions which today baffle individuals and nations and which seem so peculiar to this age are really the common problems of the human race. The solution of these problems is the same now as it always has been. The way was pointed out and fully demonstrated by Christ Jesus more than nineteen centuries ago as he taught the truth of being and healed many of their sins and diseases. In giving Christian Science to the world our beloved Leader (Mary Baker Eddy) has illumined the Word of God as contained in the sacred Scriptures, made practical the teachings and works of the Way-shower, and has demonstrated their availability and efficacy in solving all of the problems of the human race."

AVOCADO CULTURE

IT is timely now to talk about the culture of Avocado trees. Many people are inquiring as to the best methods of caring for them through the summer so I would like to repeat the directions I gave in "The News" last year on this subject.

Young avocado trees for the first two or three years should have basins built around them starting with basin four feet wide and increasing the size each year. Have the bank of the basin eight inches high. The basin should always be full of mulch. The mulch will gradually sink down and disappear and should be replenished from time to time. Let the limbs of the trees come down to the ground, this will protect the trunk from sunburning and keep the ground moist. While the trees are young, irrigation should be done with a hose, going from tree to tree filling the basins with water.

Look out for mole and gopher holes so as not to let the water run away without benefiting the trees. We have found from experience that once a week is about right to irrigate avocado trees here in Sierra Madre. Watering large trees is done differently. A thick mulch is kept under the trees and spread out beyond the reach of the limbs. Once a week set a sprinkler under the tree and let it run for several hours. Or an overhead sprinkler system can be used.

No cultivation should be done under an avocado tree. The roots are close to the surface and if they are cut or disturbed the fruit will drop. The ground out beyond the reach of the roots and between the trees can be cultivated to keep down the weeds while the trees are young. The weeds that might happen to grow in the basins should be pulled out, of course, but if plenty of mulch is kept there, the weeds will have little room to grow.

The fruit will be larger on a tree where artificial thinning has been practiced, and it stands to reason that the tree will be greatly benefited by relieving it of so much work.

Personally, I believe that a tree thinned will bear better the following year.

Woman's Club Notes

By MRS. WAVERLY E. PRATT

THE artistry of music and song wrought magic at the Woman's Clubhouse on Wednesday, June 10, when club members and guests were given a rare musical treat by Alfred Kastner, eminent harp soloist of the Philharmonic orchestra, and Laura Estelle Cadmus, mezzo-soprano.

Mr. Kastner enjoys the reputation of being one of the greatest living artists on his instrument, having played in all the largest symphony orchestras under the foremost conductors of the world. Numbers played by Mr. Kastner were: "Sarabande," by Couperin; "Impromptu Caprice," G. Piere; "Lullaby," Chopin; "Theme with Variations," Longo; "Fantasy," C. Saint-Saens; "Romance," Rubinstein; "Legend," Zabel; "Song Without Words," Mendelssohn; "An Printemps," Gounod.

Miss Cadmus has appeared as soloist with such organizations as the Los Angeles Peoples Chorus, Los Angeles Oratoric Society and has been heard in concert and church recitals in this country and Europe.

Beautiful songs with splendid musical accompaniment on the harp were blended together in an artistic whole, with Miss Cadmus singing "Ava Maria" by Schubert; "Marriage of the Roses," Cesar Frank; "Thank God for a Garden," Del Riego; "By The Waters of Minnetonka," Th. Lieuranne. Lovely stage decorations were by Mrs. F. P. Conard.

At the luncheon honoring the charter members, following the program, Mrs. E. E. Bacon presided, presenting Harold Carew, who is Book Page editor of the Pasadena Star News. He gave a talk on the program in September which is to commemorate the founding of Sierra Madre 50 years ago. Early history of San Gabriel Valley from the crossing of the mountains by Jedediah Smith in 1826, days of the Spanish dons at Santa Anita Rancho and the settlement of Sierra Madre by N. C. Carter were followed by Mr.

Carew, who is the author of a three-volume history of the San Gabriel Valley published last year.

Col. H. B. Hersey, Government Meteorologist, introduced Burr McIntosh, actor, author and lecturer, who gave an interesting talk closing with his poem on "Friendship."

Col. Hersey and Mr. McIntosh were friends in Cuba during the Spanish-American War where Col. Hersey was a member of Theodore Roosevelt's "Rough Riders," and Mr. McIntosh was a war correspondent.

Other guests at the luncheon introduced by Mrs. Bacon were: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kastner, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carew and Robert Ball, Colorado newspaper editor.

The delicious luncheon was prepared by Mrs. R. M. McBurney.

Don't forget the Garden bridge tea to be held on June 17, at 2 o'clock. Reservations numbering 118 have already been made, states Mrs. George Lehner, chairman.

There will be many lovely prizes and a non-players prize. Mrs. Elmer A. Green is hostess to the non-players.

This final social event of the Woman's club will be held in the gardens of Mrs. Lehner's home at 550 West Central. The community is invited. For reservations phone Mrs. Lehner, 341-1.

At the Board Meeting of the Woman's Club on Wednesday it was voted to $600 in the Savings account. There is also a generous checking account left on hand for the incoming board. Plans are also under way for general improvements in the clubhouse and grounds.

Mrs. Clarence L. Virgin will be the house guest of her mother, Mrs. Ella A. Cadmus, 601 Woodland Drive, during the absence of her husband, campaign manager for Evangelist John E. Brown, who left Sierra Madre on Monday for Elizabeth, N.J., where he will supervise the building of a tabernacle in which Charles Forbes Taylor, "English Boy Evangelist," will conduct a union evangelistic meeting in July.

Trask, Scout Executive and Business Manager; H. B. Robinson, Camp Director; Harold Stains, Assistant; Carroll Holt, Assistant; Bob Stump, Camp Sanitation; Bob Martin, Navigation and Reuben Wood, Librarian.

WOMAN'S RESCUE WORK TO FEATURE MEETING

The Women's Society of the Congregational church will meet for a missionary luncheon on Tuesday, June 16. The prayer circle will meet at 11:30 and will be led by Mrs. Kittie Buile. A surprise luncheon will be served at 12:30. Reservations are to be made with Dr. Adda Brady, 191-1. An interesting program has been arranged by Mrs. H. B. Hersey. Capt. Maud Lee of the Salvation Army will speak of rescue work among women in Los Angeles. Capt. Taylor will lead the devotions, using the 100th Psalm as the memory scripture. Mrs. A. M. Udell and Mrs. Amanda McMullen are the hostesses for the day. Everyone is cordially invited.

TEACHER INJURED WHEN THROWN FROM A HORSE

Thrown from a horse at a Flintridge riding academy last Saturday, Miss Doris Payard, Sierra Madre school teacher, received a wrenched back which has confined her to her home at 305 East Laurel avenue for several days this week. Her many friends in the community were relieved to hear Tuesday that her injuries were not serious, but limited to severe strain.

Said Mrs.---

"I did not know there was so much difference in milk until I used Natural Raw Milk. I thought all milk was the same. . . one might have a little more cream, but that was all. Now I know better!" After using this milk you too will know the difference. Heavy with food solids, rich in cream, the flavor is full-bodied and delicious. CITY CREWS CLEAR LOTS OF FIRE HAZARD; FLAMES FINISH WORK

Directed by Assistant City Engineer Hosford, Sierra Madre's week-cleaning crews have won their war with weeds in three short weeks this year—less than half the time required to do the job in 1930.

Beginning in Bailey Canyon and Canyon Park the crews laid a firebreak of cleared lots along the foot of the mountain, then worked southward—and tomorrow the last of the weed-chopping will be finished along Orange Grove avenue. Three crews of 12 men each were employed in the campaign.

Large lots have been gridded with 20-foot firebreaks and will be burned off within the next few days, Hosford said yesterday.

More lots than ever before were cleared this year before the city workers began, indicating the memories of high weed assessments last year put new strength into many a householder's hoe.

HIKERS FIND MOUNTAINS ARE STILL FULL OF LIFE

Dave Rubens and Louis Cohen, hikers visiting Orchard Camp over the week-end, discovered that the mountains behind Sierra Madre are still wild and woolly. Traversing a mountain trail, the Los Angeles youths discovered a huge rattlesnake in the path. Killed with handy weapons, the reptile measured five feet long and carried thirteen rattles—one of the largest ever killed in this vicinity.

PLAY'S TITLE FROM A BIBLICAL QUOTATION

Donald Braydon, Ruth Covell Levison, Mary Mason and many others.

The title of the play, a modern sentimental romance, is taken from the Biblical quotation, "Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it." The play had its first presentation outside of London and New York at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

WE read where Joe Swanson saw a deer—near the City Hall. We've heard of fellows seeing snakes, but that's a kind of an imposition on the innocent deer. This weather affects people strangely.

Two of the brave lads have left for the wild and rocky. Harlan Gerlach and Bob Babbitt packed up the old "Chevy" and departed for back country in search of a bad cold. The trip is a mysterious one. Some of the boys think that Harlan is venturing to learn how to whistle through his teeth. By the appearance of the loaded machine they must be going to do a lot of whistling. Included in their equipment are picks, shovels, tubs, washboards, basins, baked beans, eggs and some kind of a guarded implement that operates in the manner of a cradle. Bob is troubled with insomnia, and perhaps it will be necessary to rock him to sleep.

The Ladies Auxiliary met last Friday and from what we hear, some of them took advantage of the occasion. The very first to leave the "quarters" were not early to bed, but the last to leave might just as well have prepared breakfast before retiring. And once more the boys at home have failed to call their wives to the phone.

Several members spent a great deal of time up in Bailey Canyon last week. Besides clearing brush they assisted in the building of outdoor stoves, or whatever they are called. From now on, a great portion of the spare time will be spent in the new park. We have been requested to ask the Chief to get a man's size shovel if he must "work."

Well, after three weeks of absence, we meet again tonight. The Southwest corner group will meet a little early in order to discuss the unfinished business before the house. The S.W.C. committee will meet at exactly 6:45 as there is considerable important business to be transacted before Jim goes on duty. Members will please take notice. FIRE'S OUT.

Friends of Dr. George W. Groth of North Baldwin avenue, are pleased to see him around town again and able to resume his practice.

FOOTHILLS SCORED BY WINDING TRAILS FOR SCOUT GAMES

Sierra Madre's Boy Scout troops will settle a weighty baseball problem tonight when troops No. 1 and 2 meet at the school daimond to play off a tie. Congregational troop was victorious two weeks ago; last Friday night the troop from St. Rita's whaled the stuffing out of their comrades. Tonight's game will tell the tale. Scouts of both troops with their leaders have been invited to attend the Flag Day parade in Pasadena next Sunday night, June 14. They are urged to report in uniform, with troop, patrol and American flags, at Delacy and Colorado streets at 7:10 o'clock.

Last night Troop No. 1 continued its work of turning a portion of Santa Anita Rifle Club grounds into a parade field and recreational center. The Scouts will soon cut a complicated labyrinth of trails through the brush-covered foothills nearby to furnish excitement for Indian and stalking games.

Safety Glass

Ford cars are now equipped with safety glass in all doors and windows at a small extra charge

$15 for the Coupe, De Luxe Coupe, Sport Coupe or Convertible Cabriolet $20 for the Tudor Sedan, Standard Sedan, De Luxe Sedan, Town Sedan or Victoria

THE Triplex safety glass windshield has always been an outstanding feature of the Model A Ford. By reducing the dangers of flying glass, it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile collisions.

Now comes a further assurance of safety to every Ford owner... polished plate safety glass in ALL DOORS AND WINDOWS at slight additional cost.

The charge for this extra protection is unusually low because of large production and the development of new methods of manufacture. Simply tell the dealer when you buy the Ford that you want "safety plate glass in all doors and windows" and the car will be factory-equipped for you in that manner.

Today, as before, the safety glass windshield is furnished as standard equipment on all Ford cars without extra charge.

FORD OWNERS This announcement refers only to NEW CARS. Ford dealers are not in a position to install safety glass in the windows of your present Ford at the above prices.

Satin smoothness certified by Torsiographic tests

Studebaker's Dictator Eight engine gets almost perfect score for "rounded" performance. Nothing in its price class equals The Dictator's even power flow

"EYESIGHT evidence" of remarkable smoothness now verifies the enthusiastic claims of thousands of Dictator Eight owners. The unerring stylus of the Torsiograph reveals an absence of vibration in The Dictator's 81-horsepower engine which is unique in a car of The Dictator's low price.

Here indeed is "rounded" performance! Rounded not only figuratively, as shown by the Torsiographic record, but rounded as well in every function that makes motoring a pleasure and an economy.

There is no mystery in the source of The Dictator's smoothness. A sturdy, nine-bearing crankshaft, balanced not only statically but dynamically, is at the heart of it. What little vibration may survive, is further minimized by a crankshaft vibration damper of remarkable efficiency.

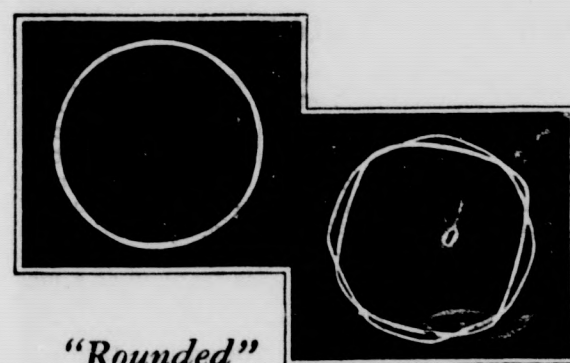

That is but the beginning. Combustion, or firing, is made steady and even by the use of a dual carburetor and gas passage, which assures equal fuel being fed to each cylinder, without "starving" the extreme end cylinders.

Full-power exhaust muffling, which conserves horsepower, and carburetor silencing—both introduced by Studebaker—combine to give The Dictator engine quiet to match its smoothness.

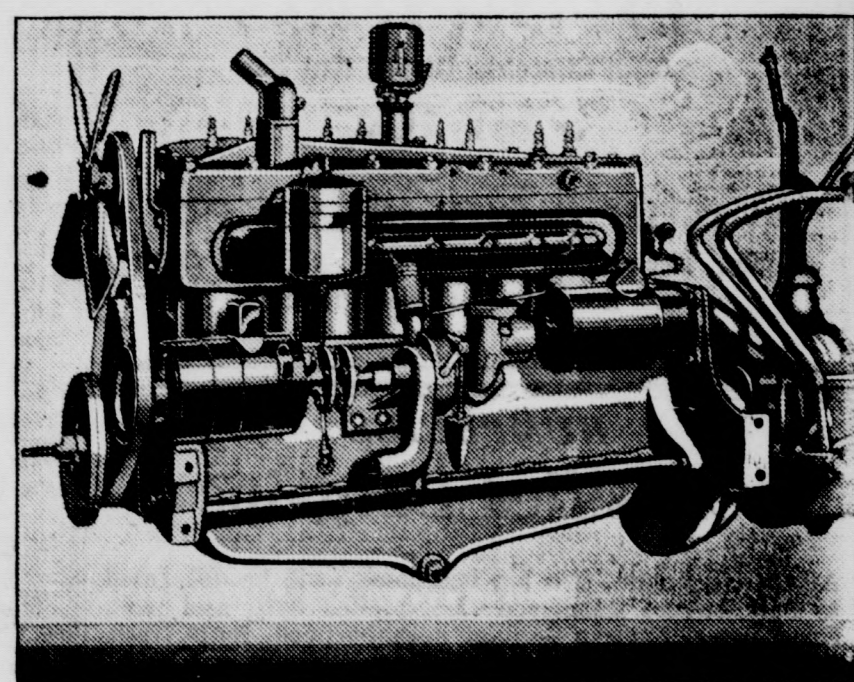

Finally, Free Wheeling brings to The Dictator its restful travel-ease. Clutch-pushing is almost forgotten. Gears shift noiselessly at any speed. Momentum is put to work, carrying you 10,000 miles for 8,000 miles of engine effort. Gasoline and oil consumption is cut 15% to 20%. Safety is enhanced. Enjoyment is multiplied.

Today—come drive The Dictator, the Eight with "rounded" performance. Enjoy luxury without luxury's usual tariff. Take the wheel of The Dictator and convince yourself.

"Rounded" Performance

The Torsiograph, one of the most nearly infallible of automotive laboratory instruments, records accurately the vibration of any rotating shaft. The closer the record chart approaches a true circle, the more nearly perfect the balance of the crankshaft. Above are shown the Torsiographic records of The Dictator Eight nine (9) bearing crankshaft and those of two other engines of double the Dictator's price. Notice the smooth roundness of The Dictator graph contrasted with the irregularity, or "humpiness" of the other two.

NEW RECTOR OF EPISCOPAL PARISH IS A MUSICIAN AND COMPOSER OF SACRED MUSIC

Rev. Arnold G. H. Bode

Rev. Arnold G. H. Bode, now established with his family in the rectory of the Church of the Ascension, is a musician of note and the composer of many pieces of sacred music.

His creative talents have produced many beautiful compositions, among them "He Maketh Wars to Cease," anthem first sung in St. Paul's Cathedral, Los Angeles, and reviewed as "a splendidly written and highly effective movement in fugue form."

Other organ and choir music composed by the new head of the Episcopal parish here include such anthems for mixed voices as "Thy Peace Shall Be As a River," characterized by splendid climax and pianissimo chorale; "A Russian Hymn to the Trinity," beautiful in its simplicity, and many others.

He has also composed "Twos On That First Glad Christmas Day," two-part carol anthem; "Communion in C," a congregational communion service and "I Heard the Voice," sacred song for mezzo-soprano.

Born in Australia, Dean Bode served as organist at Hobart Cathedral, Tasmania, and at Christ Church, Sydney, New South Wales, gaining his scholarship on the instrument at Cuddesdon College, Oxford, England. Called from the post of minor canon and master of the choir boys in Denver, he was appointed Dean of St. Matthews Cathedral, Laramie, Wyo., and held the position of professor of music at the University of Wyoming in Laramie.

He was instrumental in building St. Luke's Episcopal church in Long Beach. After five years in Anaheim, he came to St. James, South Pasadena, where he acted as organist and choir master for nearly three and a half years before coming to Sierra Madre.

Utility Man Raps Norris And Pinchot

Says Individualism In America Is Being Threatened By Radicalism

American individualism and American institutions are being threatened by the attack which has been launched by a minority group of self-seeking politicians of this country, declared W. C. Mullendore, vice-president of the Southern California Edison Company, Ltd., in an address yesterday before the National Electric Light Association convention at Atlantic City. This small group of malcontents, in which Senator Norris of Nebraska and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania were mentioned, he said, is marshalling the spectres of fear, envy, hatred, suspicion and distrust in an attack upon our basic American principles to the sole end that a few men shall be enabled to hold the limelight by posing as the defenders of that which they are attacking.

"Within the past few years the people of the United States have been warned in stentorian tones and black headlines that a new national problem of gravest menace is darkening the political horizon," Mullendore said. "This is called the power issue, but it is a false issue."

"The real issue which I find has been raised by the prevailing attack upon the electric utility industry is whether the power of public office shall be wrongfully employed to undermine confidence in and destroy the good-will of legitimate American business in order to prepare the way for a program in direct conflict with basic American principles; whether it is in the public interest that the destructive forces of fear, envy, hatred, suspicion and distrust shall be aroused through false accusations, unjustified abuse and vilification of American institutions—to the end that Socialism shall replace American individualism."

"Public utilities, and more particularly electric light and power utilities, are now feeling the weight of all the concentrated venom of these high priests of the cult of hatred and destruction. The business of the electric light and power industry, like that of all utilities, is clothed with a public interest. Our industry is a trustee of many interests, those of its more than a quarter million employees, its two million investors, its twenty-four million customers, and most important of all, the basic interest of the public in the maintenance of those forces of individualism and private enterprises without which neither this nor any other great industry or business of America could have reached the present levels of service to the public. These interests we must protect if we meet our full responsibility."

THE PROBLEM THAT CONFRONTS GIRLS

When a girl believes that she is equally fond of two men, so much so that she might marry either one of them, she is confronted with a difficult problem to solve. That is one of the major situations in "The Last Parade," which will be shown today and Saturday at Janet Malbon's Arcadia Theatre. The leading players in this attraction are Jack Holt, Tom Moore, Constance Cummings and Gaylord Pendleton.

"God's Gift to Women," Warner Brothers latest comedy, will open an engagement at the theatre Sunday and Monday. Frank Fay, one of the most uniquely amusing of Broadway comedians, is featured as a modern Don Juan of Paris. He is supported in the cast by Laura La Plante, Joan Blondell, Louise Brooks and others.

Two feature pictures, "Ten Cents a Dance" and "Subway Express," will be shown Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday evenings. A whirl of dancing, joy crazed, music loving girls taking their pleasure where they find it is the setting of "Ten Cents a Dance," featuring Barbara Stanwyck. "Subway Express," a mystery thriller, which first scored on the Broadway stage, has for its locale what is perhaps the most cosmopolitan public conveyance in the world—the New York subway. Jack Holt and Aileen Pringle lead the cast.

The third meeting of the Thin Red Line club is to be held at the home of J. O. Smith, 609 West Central avenue, on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. An interesting speaker will address the meeting.

about. The appeal of beautiful Bella Vista Terrace ended the search. So it is good to know that, should a moment of loneliness ever come, a number of friends of the days gone by, are "neighbors."

NEIGHBORS

It is good to know that my old friend Col. H. B. Hersey and his charming wife are "neighbors." It is well to be able to wish for any sort of weather desired and to know that Colonel Hersey can order it. But much more effectively did he command his "Rough Riders" in Cuba. I was there as a correspondent and having been under fire with them, three years ago at the Thirtieth Reunion in Hollywood, I was made an honorary member. As Colonel Hersey is the head of the organization, if either of us becomes lonely for Cuban memories, we can "fight the battles over."

I haven't been over to Charley Hasting's ranch because the cold weather drove him up to Vancouver, where there is much of warmth and warming. But we will soon be able to recall many happy days in New York, when life was really worth living there.

And my good friend Lee Shippey is here, happily, with his little Shippys. There is no more worth while single agency in Southern California for the spreading of honest appreciation and recognition of worthy effort than Lee Shippey exercises in his deeply respected and highly regarded daily "The Lee Side O' L. A." in the "Times." He wrote a very much appreciated "piece" about me around Christmas time a year ago. It caused hundreds to write good wishes to me. So, you see, I know that thinking people read and enjoy his splendid column. I'm glad he's a "neighbor."

And Louise Gunning (Mrs. Oscar Seiling) has been a happy resident of Sierra Madre for several years. Not so long ago, I remember the "Scotch Lassie," who was the toast of New York because she was the best looking and best "singing" prima donna of them all. And now she and her famous musical husband are enjoying life in the spot that they regard as the most beautiful in the country.

And Mr. and Mrs. W. Laurens Rhoades have known the benefits of Sierra Madre for many happy days. It was through my radio work that Mr. Rhoades and I became friends. He has done such a vast amount of good for the blind, ever on the alert to benefit those who have been deprived of the blessings of eyesight. Many helpful and encouraging little books from his own pen have given courage to many who have been only blind to their own abilities and opportunities. I know that should my own courage fail, as I view the tardy fulfillment of my own humble plans to benefit, I can find the needed inspiration from a visit to "Neighbor" Rhoades.

And when I feel the yen to get close to Nature, I may seek the shade of the forest surrounding the happy nest of my nature-loving "neighbors." Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Larry. There I may sit and watch the timid Papa and Mama Quail, with their brood of a dozen scurrying youngsters come for the meal which has been so enticingly prepared, while, in the shadows of the limbs above, the squinting squirrels anxiously await their turn to approach the hospitable rock—their preference for a banquet table. Yet, it will always help to drop in at the Larry's.

And should the longing come to recall days or events or "fellow troupers" of the past, "Troupier" Irene D'Arville will be here to reminisce. Still young.

And last, but decidedly, not least, if I should ever be lonely for the sight of a newspaper desk, or wish to recall days when I was a "depot reporter" on the old Pittsburgh "Times," I can drop into "THE NEWS" office and "cheer" the staff with the genial editor and publisher of this worthy publication. Years ago, when I went back to my old home town, young Goshorn was just beginning his newspaper career.

All Stars Drubbed By The Fast Oilers; Firemen Win A Game

Sierra Madre "All Stars" received rough treatment from the Union Oil team of Los Angeles Wednesday night, when the out-of-town players piled up 8 runs in the second inning. Close fielding and fast pitching on the part of the Oilers was met with strong play from the local line-up except in the fatal second inning, when a succession of fluke errors decided the contest.

Final score was 12 to 3. The "All Stars" will meet another fast team from Burbank on the local diamond next Wednesday night, the batting order to be the same as in Wednesday's fray as follows: Taylor, Harkness, Pratt, Burroughs, J. Young, Les Miller, Smith, G. McMillan, C. Morrison, Olsen, C. Young, Evans.

Another baseball event of the week was a reversal of form in the City League Series. The firemen's ball team loosened up and walloped the Kiwanians unmercifully last Tuesday night. Andy Liscomb of the fire-eaters was the hero of the evening, sending out two hits that registered as home runs.

NEW PLANS FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

climbing the east corner of the building. In a few more years, it is safe to hazard, the clubwomen may put on a Wistaria Fete of their own.

They are working with a definite aim in view. First an attractive walk will be laid from the west clubhouse entrance to the garden section, passing by a carefully planned rose garden and through a lawn bordered by masses of colorful California wild flowers.

Passing beneath a graceful stone arch, the walk will lead to a proposed stone garden house and grill in the rear, where tables will be grouped in the shade of pepper trees, acacias and sycamores.

Setting for the landscape plan is already ideal. A beautiful row of Italian cypress has been started in the west garden, and plots of begonias, fuschias and hydrangeas have been planted to add their color to the grounds.

He was a cousin of the owner of the leading daily, the Pittsburgh "Dispatch," Col. Charles A. Rook, who later sold his interests and, very sensibly, moved to this glorious state. In fact, he has his palatial abode now in La Canada. So, whatever may be in store, or whatever may develop in my truly yearned for effort to "get away from it all," should I long for the grasp of a friendly hand I can safely feel that I am amongst friendly "Neighbors."

STEWART IS GIVEN LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Councilman Ralph W. Stewart, now engaged in business in the Imperial Valley, was granted a 30-day leave of absence by Sierra Madre City Council Wednesday night, and Councilman Lees was appointed to temporarily take his place as chairman of the water, street and sanitation committees.

The May city financial report submitted by City Clerk Green at Wednesday's Council meeting showed expenditures of $15,026.72.

Tabulated expenditures follow: General Fund, $3,859.85; Water department, $2,411.59; Park, $420.50; Water Improvement, 1928, $67.06; Interest on Sinking Fund, $7.43; Central Avenue District No. 1 Fund, $296; Library Fund, $486.72.
